

After my injury while going back to school I noticed the website and online world did not have much, or any information on adaptive action or adventure sports for those with high level injuries and limited mobility that use wheelchairs in their daily lives. In 2004, I started a website and organization called Extreme Chairing to help promote several different types of Adaptive Action, Adventure, & Motor Sports, as well as some of the disabled athletes that are involved in them. In 2010, I decided to turn my organization into a 501 c3 non-profit and change the name to Super Chairing.

Super Chairing has inspired and motivated thousands of people and we continue too. There are many things that I want Super Chairing to accomplish so that we may be able to help adults, children, and veterans with high level injuries, limited mobility, and different disabilities. The main dream and goal for Super Chairing is to open an Adaptive Sports Park, Ranch, & Resort. This will be a haven for those with disabilities where they can be with their friends and family and experience adventure, independence, excitement, and freedom like they have never felt before. SCAS Ranch will have several different types of AATV's for everyone with acres of trails, tracks, obstacles, and open land for them to ride on. When a person with a disability gets into an AATV, it really does take the 'dis' out of their disability. They are in control of a vehicle with the ability to go where they want and be fully independent doing so. If they are not out riding there will be dozens of other activities available.

We have a business plan and budget written up with several locations picked out that are available to get this dream started. With real-estate and land prices at record lows this time is better than any. I am ready and committed to move, work and live on this land. I also have my best friend and brother in law who are ready to quit their jobs and help setup, run, and work at Super Chairing's Adaptive Sports Park, Ranch, & Resort.

If you have ever had as many dreams and goals as I have, you know how important it is to find support to help make those dreams come true. I am looking for sponsors, donators, contributors, or investors to please help me in my racing aspirations, and continued efforts to motivate, inspire, entertain, and educate more people. In return I will promote and advertise my sponsors on my RZR Racing truck, on the outside of the racing trailer, on my personal website J2RollsOn.com, in the credits of my up coming 2016 DVD video, and in my daily life.

Please also consider helping Super Chairing so that we can continue to change many lives in positive ways. We will work hard so that we can turn SCAS Ranch & Resort from a thought and idea into reality. The land, housing, buildings, and vehicles can all be built and purchased for $700,000. It may seem like a lot of money, but the lives that will be changed and enlightened by this haven will be priceless. Thousands are waiting for this experience of a lifetime, and we have who have already contacted us wanting to visit or stay.

Many times I have asked myself why this SCI had to happen to me? Is there a purpose for me to be in this situation? It is just in the past three years when I thought of building the SC Ranch that I think answered those questions. I have a small voice in my head that has been saying, "if you build it they will come". I am writing to you today to ask for your help. Whether its sponsoring, donating, contributing, investing, advice, or helping promote Super Chairing all your actions will be gratefully appreciated.

Letting the great times roll,
